

CHOICE FOR A LIFETIME

You take weeks selecting the best banquet spread, why not do the same with your photographer? Listed as one of the “100 People You Must Know in Asia” by the regional Tatler, and described by New Straits Times as the most sought-after wedding photographer in Malaysia, Kid Chan has been entrusted by many couples to capture their weddings with his signature photo-journalism style. He tells us why having the best pre-wedding photography is so valuable.

HAVING PIONEERED WEDDING DAY PHOTOGRAPHY IN MALAYSIA, WHAT MADE YOU VENTURE INTO PRE-WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHY?

When I started, “actual day” photography was our speciality. We’ve observed many beautiful moments on actual wedding days and captured many precious memories through our photos. But sometimes, because most couples will be under too much pressure, we won’t be able to capture that perfect moment on the actual day. Pre-wedding photography allows them to bond and relax for a shoot at a location they both love and enjoy. The experience also prepares them for the wedding day itself.

WHAT CAN COUPLES EXPECT FROM YOUR PRE-WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHY PACKAGES?

One of our specialities is overseas location shoots. We have gone as far as Australia, Bali, Thailand and the UK and will be going to Milan for more pre-wedding shoots. We find out what each couple’s preferences are and, to add value, we also work with a network of speciality designers who provide the best bridal makeup, flowers and gowns. We are very sensitive about the quality of our studio’s work as well as the quality of work done by our partners.

WHAT SHOULD COUPLES BE MINDFUL OF WHEN “SHOPPING” FOR A PRE-WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHER?

Try to ask for the master shots of a photographer’s portfolio. Instead of just looking at prepared samples, go through the whole reel to check the consistency of the photographer’s work. Also, when shooting on location, always check on the weather. Couples who are travelling overseas for a shoot should choose a photographer who is a seasoned traveller as this will help to reduce any anxiety during the shoot.

HOW FAR IN ADVANCE SHOULD COUPLES COMPLETE THEIR PRE-WEDDING PHOTOGRAPHY?

At least three months prior to the actual wedding day. This is to provide sufficient time to get your gowns ready and also for the photographer to finish your album before your wedding day. 📷

* Pre-wedding packages start from RM2,288

* “Actual day” packages start from RM2,008
